WIRE FENCE PHONES

Farmers in South Dakota Use the "Barbed-Wire System."

County Agricultural Agent Assists Farmers to Install System at Cost of Less Than $20 Each.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Washington.—There are still many rural homes that do not have telephones and, as at present economy in all lines is imperative, interest is reviving in the "barbed-wire system," which was more or less common in parts of the West 20 years ago.

In Carson county, South Dakota, the county agricultural agent has assisted farmers to install such a system at an average cost of material per farmer of less than $20. Carson County is 87 miles long and very sparsely settled, although the agricultural lands are fenced. Standard telephone lines appeared to be too expensive, yet there was a great need of facilitating communication. The county agent furnished information regarding the cost of installing the line, using porcelain nail knobs for insulation, which cost about $5 per mile. These knobs work satisfactorily when the barbed wire is tied to them with a short piece of wire.

In order further to reduce the cost some farmers tried pieces of rubber cut from automobile inner tubes as insulators. Pieces of the tubing 1 1/2 inches square were wound around the barbed wire and fastened to the post with staples. The county agent reports that this insulation is giving satisfaction, although, of course, the rubber will deteriorate in time.

The farmers were able to obtain second-hand phones at from $5 to $20 each and 50 cents bought a lightning arrester, so that the total cost per farmer was comparatively nominal.

Each farmer has his own special ring, so there is no expense for a central. It is possible with a system like this to connect various parts of the farm or distant barns with the house, or the tenant house with the farm home, at a very low cost. While such a system leaves much to be desired in the way of service, it meets an emergency and can be made to answer, pending the coming of times when conditions will warrant a more expensive and more satisfactory system.

PUT OUT FIRE WITH WINE

Forty Barrels of Vintage Used to Save Burning Building on Pennsylvania Farm.

Carlisle, Pa.—Forty barrels of fine elderberry wine proved to be the only effective fire extinguisher when a fire on the farm of Gilbert Beem here destroyed a barn and outbuildings valued at $10,000. When tenants reached the fire, water was promptly poured on the burning buildings; but, although a bucket brigade worked for six hours the buildings were destroyed. The flames started to ignite a handsome lodge on the farm. The water had run out. The tenant remembered a large quantity of wine stored in the cellar, and within a few minutes the bucket brigade was transferring elderberry wine to the roof of the threatened building.

A steady stream of wine was kept on the building until forty barrels were exhausted. The building although badly scorched, was the only one on the farm saved.

Cattle Rustlers Busy. Houston, Tex.—The old cattle rustling days are coming back to southern Texas. Wholesale cattle thefts here and in surrounding counties have been reported. Deputy sheriffs armed with search warrants visited a farm nine miles from here. They found the hide and heads of three calves. The brand had been cut off.

Officers say there is a ring of cattle thieves operating in the state.
